

ESTABLISHED 1840.

There is a matter of life and death to Memphis to be considered this afternoon at the hall of the Chamber of Commerce. A distinguished and eloquent gentleman, from an adjacent State, will address the assembly. Let no one fail to attend.

COLONEL R. B. SOMERVELL'S card, announcing himself a candidate for Congress in the Ninth district, will attract the attention of our readers. He is one of the best citizens of the State, a well-informed politician, a fluent speaker, and personally most highly esteemed everywhere. We shall speak of him as a candidate hereafter.

COLONEL T. W. SCOTT said, when approached by a newspaper man in New Orleans, that he had never conceived of the immensurable riches and resources of Texas till he visited the imperial State, and he would be equally amazed if he beheld the magnitude of the Mississippi. He said that his transcontinental road would be managed in promotion of the peculiar interests of no locality, city or State, but to make money. Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans would each share equal favors at his hands.

THE SELMA RAILROAD.

As will be seen from a card in another column, it is absolutely necessary that the merchants and business men of Memphis meet to-day, at the Chamber of Commerce, at four o'clock, to consider certain propositions for an early completion of the Selma railroad. The call is urgent, but it is not more so than the necessities of the case require. We hope the meeting will be huge and influential, and that the ends sought for will be accomplished.

ARKANSAS.

Grant's Radicals Still Murdering the People—Confederates in Court.

LITTLE ROCK, July 10.—Parties from Pope county this evening report that the militia to the number of sixty were in arms near Dover last night. It was reported that they intended to make an attack on that place to-day. It was also reported that two more citizens were killed near Dover last night. The Governor will send Major General Upham, to the scene of the trouble to-morrow, to investigate the matter.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

AN EDITOR DIES.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—Walter G. Overton, long connected with the press of this city, and lately editor of the Louisville Courier, died in this city by the severing of the bowels.

BALTIMORE.

Second and Closing Day of the Democratic Convention—Unanimous.

Horace Greeley for President and B. Gratz Brown for Vice-President—The Cincinnati Platform Adopted.

Votes by States on Platform and Nominations for President and Vice-President—Committee to Announce Nominations.

At the close of the call, when Delaware voted no, there were loud cheers. The Chair appealed to the convention to treat with respect the vote of any and every State.

The delegates said that the disturbance was in the galleries.

Before the vote was announced, patriotism was asked by the Chairman to Alabama to make an explanation of the change of her vote.

Mr. Shorter (Alabama) took two minutes to explain that there were in the pending resolutions some statements which some of his delegation could not assent to without an explanation.

At a quarter after ten o'clock Chairman DeLoach called upon Rev. Mr. Lyle, of Baltimore, who addressed the convention.

The Chairman announced that, for the convenience of the members of the convention, every person rising to make a motion or speak shall announce his name and State.

Mr. Chubb (Arkansas) asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas in excess of their number.

Mr. Barr (Connecticut) announced that the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report. He came to the platform, sat at his request.

Reading Clerk Perin read a report recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to the resolutions, Mr. Barr called for their reading in full to the convention, which was done.

The resolutions were adopted in Committee on Resolutions, and the Cincinnati platform was adopted in Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Barr (Delaware) inquired whether the previous question was not another name for gag-law, and had become the gag-law of the convention without notice to the delegates?

The Chair said that the convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Barr was in order as to procedure.

A number of gentlemen appeared for the withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Mr. Barr said he felt compelled to decline. (Applause, and calls of "amen.")

On motion to sustain the previous question, the result was, yeas 573, nays 10.

Governor Hoffman, in casting the vote of New York in the affirmative, said that some of the delegates, who had been in the convention, were opposed to the previous question.

Mr. Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to vote on the question, and asked to have his vote recorded "no."

The Chair announced that Mr. Barr, of Connecticut, was now entitled to one of the seats.

Mr. Barr announced that he had adopted the platform of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

THE VOTE ON PLATFORM.

At the close of the call, when Delaware voted no, there were loud cheers. The Chair appealed to the convention to treat with respect the vote of any and every State.

The delegates said that the disturbance was in the galleries.

Before the vote was announced, patriotism was asked by the Chairman to Alabama to make an explanation of the change of her vote.

Mr. Shorter (Alabama) took two minutes to explain that there were in the pending resolutions some statements which some of his delegation could not assent to without an explanation.

At a quarter after ten o'clock Chairman DeLoach called upon Rev. Mr. Lyle, of Baltimore, who addressed the convention.

The Chairman announced that, for the convenience of the members of the convention, every person rising to make a motion or speak shall announce his name and State.

Mr. Chubb (Arkansas) asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas in excess of their number.

Mr. Barr (Connecticut) announced that the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report. He came to the platform, sat at his request.

Reading Clerk Perin read a report recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to the resolutions, Mr. Barr called for their reading in full to the convention, which was done.

The resolutions were adopted in Committee on Resolutions, and the Cincinnati platform was adopted in Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Barr (Delaware) inquired whether the previous question was not another name for gag-law, and had become the gag-law of the convention without notice to the delegates?

The Chair said that the convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Barr was in order as to procedure.

A number of gentlemen appeared for the withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Mr. Barr said he felt compelled to decline. (Applause, and calls of "amen.")

On motion to sustain the previous question, the result was, yeas 573, nays 10.

Governor Hoffman, in casting the vote of New York in the affirmative, said that some of the delegates, who had been in the convention, were opposed to the previous question.

Mr. Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to vote on the question, and asked to have his vote recorded "no."

The Chair announced that Mr. Barr, of Connecticut, was now entitled to one of the seats.

Mr. Barr announced that he had adopted the platform of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

ANTI-GREELEY.

Convention of Democratic Opponents of Greeley and Brown—Bayard's Speech.

Bancroft Address—Convention Called for the Third of September Next.

At the close of the call, when Delaware voted no, there were loud cheers. The Chair appealed to the convention to treat with respect the vote of any and every State.

The delegates said that the disturbance was in the galleries.

Before the vote was announced, patriotism was asked by the Chairman to Alabama to make an explanation of the change of her vote.

Mr. Shorter (Alabama) took two minutes to explain that there were in the pending resolutions some statements which some of his delegation could not assent to without an explanation.

At a quarter after ten o'clock Chairman DeLoach called upon Rev. Mr. Lyle, of Baltimore, who addressed the convention.

The Chairman announced that, for the convenience of the members of the convention, every person rising to make a motion or speak shall announce his name and State.

Mr. Chubb (Arkansas) asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas in excess of their number.

Mr. Barr (Connecticut) announced that the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report. He came to the platform, sat at his request.

Reading Clerk Perin read a report recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to the resolutions, Mr. Barr called for their reading in full to the convention, which was done.

The resolutions were adopted in Committee on Resolutions, and the Cincinnati platform was adopted in Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Barr (Delaware) inquired whether the previous question was not another name for gag-law, and had become the gag-law of the convention without notice to the delegates?

The Chair said that the convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Barr was in order as to procedure.

A number of gentlemen appeared for the withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Mr. Barr said he felt compelled to decline. (Applause, and calls of "amen.")

On motion to sustain the previous question, the result was, yeas 573, nays 10.

Governor Hoffman, in casting the vote of New York in the affirmative, said that some of the delegates, who had been in the convention, were opposed to the previous question.

Mr. Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to vote on the question, and asked to have his vote recorded "no."

The Chair announced that Mr. Barr, of Connecticut, was now entitled to one of the seats.

Mr. Barr announced that he had adopted the platform of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

THE NOMINEES.

How the Democracy of the Country Hall the Nomination of Greeley and Brown.

At the close of the call, when Delaware voted no, there were loud cheers. The Chair appealed to the convention to treat with respect the vote of any and every State.

The delegates said that the disturbance was in the galleries.

Before the vote was announced, patriotism was asked by the Chairman to Alabama to make an explanation of the change of her vote.

Mr. Shorter (Alabama) took two minutes to explain that there were in the pending resolutions some statements which some of his delegation could not assent to without an explanation.

At a quarter after ten o'clock Chairman DeLoach called upon Rev. Mr. Lyle, of Baltimore, who addressed the convention.

The Chairman announced that, for the convenience of the members of the convention, every person rising to make a motion or speak shall announce his name and State.

Mr. Chubb (Arkansas) asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas in excess of their number.

Mr. Barr (Connecticut) announced that the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report. He came to the platform, sat at his request.

Reading Clerk Perin read a report recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to the resolutions, Mr. Barr called for their reading in full to the convention, which was done.

The resolutions were adopted in Committee on Resolutions, and the Cincinnati platform was adopted in Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Barr (Delaware) inquired whether the previous question was not another name for gag-law, and had become the gag-law of the convention without notice to the delegates?

The Chair said that the convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Barr was in order as to procedure.

A number of gentlemen appeared for the withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Mr. Barr said he felt compelled to decline. (Applause, and calls of "amen.")

On motion to sustain the previous question, the result was, yeas 573, nays 10.

Governor Hoffman, in casting the vote of New York in the affirmative, said that some of the delegates, who had been in the convention, were opposed to the previous question.

Mr. Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to vote on the question, and asked to have his vote recorded "no."

The Chair announced that Mr. Barr, of Connecticut, was now entitled to one of the seats.

Mr. Barr announced that he had adopted the platform of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

THE NOMINEES.

How the Democracy of the Country Hall the Nomination of Greeley and Brown.

At the close of the call, when Delaware voted no, there were loud cheers. The Chair appealed to the convention to treat with respect the vote of any and every State.

The delegates said that the disturbance was in the galleries.

Before the vote was announced, patriotism was asked by the Chairman to Alabama to make an explanation of the change of her vote.

Mr. Shorter (Alabama) took two minutes to explain that there were in the pending resolutions some statements which some of his delegation could not assent to without an explanation.

At a quarter after ten o'clock Chairman DeLoach called upon Rev. Mr. Lyle, of Baltimore, who addressed the convention.

The Chairman announced that, for the convenience of the members of the convention, every person rising to make a motion or speak shall announce his name and State.

Mr. Chubb (Arkansas) asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas in excess of their number.

Mr. Barr (Connecticut) announced that the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report. He came to the platform, sat at his request.

Reading Clerk Perin read a report recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding as to the resolutions, Mr. Barr called for their reading in full to the convention, which was done.

The resolutions were adopted in Committee on Resolutions, and the Cincinnati platform was adopted in Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Barr (Delaware) inquired whether the previous question was not another name for gag-law, and had become the gag-law of the convention without notice to the delegates?

The Chair said that the convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Barr was in order as to procedure.

A number of gentlemen appeared for the withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Mr. Barr said he felt compelled to decline. (Applause, and calls of "amen.")

On motion to sustain the previous question, the result was, yeas 573, nays 10.

Governor Hoffman, in casting the vote of New York in the affirmative, said that some of the delegates, who had been in the convention, were opposed to the previous question.

Mr. Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to vote on the question, and asked to have his vote recorded "no."

The Chair announced that Mr. Barr, of Connecticut, was now entitled to one of the seats.

Mr. Barr announced that he had adopted the platform of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Barr said that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he was a member of the Cincinnati Convention.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS.

MOBILE. MOBILE, July 10.—Cotton dull and nominal; middling, 22 1/2; net receipts, 7 bales; stock, 200 bales.

CHARLESTON. CHARLESTON, July 10.—Cotton dull; middling, nominal; net receipts, 21 bales; stock, 178 bales.

SAVANNAH. SAVANNAH, July 10.—Cotton quiet; middling, 22 1/2; sales, 5 bales; stock, 220 bales.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MISSOURI STATE LOTTERY.

OFFICIAL DRAWING.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL SOCIETY.

Official Drawings for the Improvement of the State.

MISSOURI STATE LOTTERY.

OFFICIAL DRAWING.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL SOCIETY.

Official Drawings for the Improvement of the State.

MISSOURI STATE LOTTERY.

OFFICIAL DRAWING.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL SOCIETY.

Official Drawings for the Improvement of the State.

MISSOURI STATE LOTTERY.